

I am against this proposal in three ways. First the idea of giving Exam credit makes a simple thing complicated. Second, the code requirement should be a priority for determination in qualifying for an amateur radio license. Third, No change in the pooling of questions.